ALBANY, ALAMEDA COUNTY, CALIFORNIA, FRIDAY, DECEMBER 4, 1936

NUMBER 7

Campaign Starts Monday To Aid Community Church

City-Wide Drive Will Bring "Silver Stream" Plan to Homes of Albany People, Leaders Are Named

With all the various clubs and vivacious organizations of Albany lining up behind the "Silver Stream" campaign, Reverend H. Brooke declared that he has been greatly heartened by the enthusiastic response and added, "The first of Christmas gave the Church of Santa Claus to the world, and in turn, the world, I am sure will give generously to this worthy project."

This original plan of causing a "Silver Stream" to flow for one mile, with its 25-cent price representing each inch, thereby reducing the present bank indebtedness of $14,300 by $4,000 and utilizing the budget by providing $1,000 for the ensuing year, started out with a letter writing and advertising campaign is to be continued.

The Campaign Committee held a meeting in the church last Monday at which time it was unanimously decided to launch the campaign Monday evening, December 7 at 7:30 p. m. at a church meeting. In addition, it was decided to enlarge upon the original plan and explained that the goal can be attained first by securing 400 units at 25 cents per week for a year, from a selected list of 600 names of those finitely interested in the church and activities.

This combined with other church fundings and resources will provide $4,000. Secondly, by obtaining $2,000 from a selected list of 400 persons who will be approached through the "Silver Stream" and contribute from the standpoint of community interest.

Reverend Brooke enumerates various reasons why it is essential that the campaign be started at the present time. They are: the urgency of the existing budget, (pledges made a year ago are now ended); delay would disintegrate the Silver Stream interest; if the campaign were postponed until the start of 1937 it would conflict with the Community Chest drive and, lastly, the fact that the prevailing holiday spirit of generosity provides an ideal time to approach donors.

CHURCH HAS FINE RECORD

The church already has achieved an admirable record having a church school enrollment of 430 persons, Christian endeavor groups which provide social, physical and moral training for over 20 youths of high school age as well as flourishing Boy Scout troop of approximately 22 members. All these character-building activities tend to place the church in the community at the next meeting it is expected that each vice-chairman will be present with a corps of workers which will give the working force up to approximately 200 persons.

This campaign committee, which represents many varied interests in the community, consists of General Chairman, Carl Nieper; Campaign Chairman, Reverend H. Brooke; Vice-chairman, F. Macdonald, Don Bruce, J. Morris, H. I. Dygert, Ed Ryken, Mrs. F. Jarpe, Mrs. May Ellis, L. C. Green, and Williams, Mrs. Don Adams, Mrs. Wagner, Ed Morris, Mrs. B. Raymond, Mrs. E. Wells and Mrs. Grace Higgins.

Many prominent persons have endorsed the plan for the reason that a community church is highly desirable in bringing together, in a spirit of friendship and goodwill, all the people of the entire community, as well as giving of the highest importance in the spiritual and moral welfare of its children and young people.

ALL APPROVE PLAN

Reverend J. J. Hennessey, pastor of the Ambrose Church, who congratulated the Albany Community M. E. Church upon its twenty-fifth anniversary as well as Reverend Brooke upon his 25 years in the ministry, said, "It is my sincere hope that your 'Silver Stream' may be a success and continue to flow until the object that is in motion, the reduction of your debt, be paid."

Mayor O. C. Yenne lauded the project and urged a whole-hearted, generous support of the "Silver Stream." P. Williams corroborated his statement by declaring that the civic-wide nature of the campaign warranted the support of every citizen. Members of the City Council, O. C. Yenne, Frank Hays, B. W. Mowday, Vincent Hanan and George Batchelder, as individuals, also heartily approved the plan for the liquidation of the debt.

Modernization of the offices at the City Hall has now been completed.

Acacia Club Presents Its Show, Dance

Climaxing several weeks of preparation, the Albany Acacia Club will present its annual dance and floor show tomorrow night at the Veterans Memorial Building, announces Carl H. Nieper, president.

The gala event has been arranged by Frank Butera, chairman, and his committee and will offer those present a brilliant evening of dancing and entertainment, he promises. Assisting him are A. L. Ford, Max Etingoff, Charles Moore, Cy Perkins, Lloyd Jester, L. Green, Bob Moore, J. J. Goodare, L. H. McDuffie and Harry Dygert. Ford will also serve as master of ceremonies of the evening.

CARL H. NIEPER

The program will include a tap dance number by Lucille Duffy, several character presentations by Lucille Sellman, songs by Helen Blackley, an exhibition of magic by George DeVil and two dance numbers by Dorothyanna Nieper, accompanied by Doris Lee.

POPULAR ORCHESTRA

Music for the dancers will be supplied by the popular dance orchestra of Billy Keene, acclaimed by dancers of the East Bay as one of the region's finest groups of musicians.

The Albany Acacia Club was started three years ago by Frank Butera to provide an organization for Masons in this section. J. R. Moore was the group's first president. Among its activities are the sponsoring of the Job's Daughters and the aiding of underprivileged children.

The other officers of the club at this time are Oliver Nelson, vice-president; Dr. Everett Coe, secretary-treasurer; and L. H. McDuffie, tiler. Its board of directors includes Oliver Nelson, Lou Miller, Larry Williams, F. Butera, C. A. Moore and J. J. Goodare.

They were: President, Mrs. Eva Peterson; Vice-president, Mrs. Hazel Taylor; Second Vice-president, Mrs. Mae Rutan; Third Vice-president, Mrs. Althea Hart; Receiving Secretary, Mrs. Ruth Baigalupi; Financial Secretary, Mrs. Lena Lawrence; Treasurer, Mrs. Nelly Graham; Marshal, Mrs. Evelyn Ball; Trustees, Mrs. Loretta Whitcomb, Mrs. Leah Menafee and Mrs. Norma Valterza; Inside Sentinel, Mrs. Jane Reed; Outside Sentinel, (this position received two candidates), Mrs. Maria Hales and Mrs. Antoinette Stallone; Organist, Mrs. Flora Shapman.

The election is scheduled for December 11. This is also the date set for the official visit of Grand President Mrs. Florence Boyle and Deputy Grand President Dora Drayton. The meeting will be followed by a party.

Last Wednesday members of the Albany branch gathered at the home of Mrs. Isabel Diaz, 845 Stannage Avenue to make favors for the occasion.

Blaze Injures Man Wednesday

Leo Hopper of 1212 Brighton Avenue was treated Wednesday night at Humboldt Hospital for injuries to his hand, incurred when an oil stove upset and caught fire in the kitchen of his home. The man was hurt as he dragged the stove to the rear porch.

Damage to the house was slight, local firemen reported, consisting principally of a scorched wall and the destruction of cleaning rags with which Hopper had attempted to extinguish the blaze. He was alone in the house at the time.

Local Singer, Orchestra in New Triumphs

New laurels and acclaim were received by the Albany Playground Orchestra and its songster, Buddy Meads, during the past week-end, when the group appeared in four theaters in three days, pleasing an estimated total audience of more than 15,000 persons.

The boys, directed by Ed Howell, appeared Friday night at the Rivoli Theatre in Berkeley and were awarded first place in the amateur performance at that show. Going immediately thereafter to the Parkway Theatre in Oakland, the youthful aggregation scored again and left with first prize money.

Their success was continued on Saturday evening at the American Theatre in San Jose and as a result they were invited to appear the next day at the Fox Theatre in Napa. All appearances were on the programs conducted by Hal Morris, well known master of ceremonies and entertainer.

SINGER STARRED

All appearances were made in competition with talented amateurs of the various cities, said Howell, and it is greatly to the credit of the local boys that they were chosen by the audiences, he added. Much of the troupe's success he attributed to the splendid singing of little Buddy Meads, 10-year-old featured vocalist, whose appealing manner of presenting his song numbers readily endeared him to his listeners.

Buddy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Meads of 830 Ramona Avenue, and has appeared in a great many club and other offerings, both in Albany and throughout the Bay Region. He has made numerous radio broadcasts and inherits his talent from his mother, according to Meads. His first appearance was an impromptu one in San Diego several years ago, the father said, when he sang with Jerry Delaney's orchestra after the leader had heard his voice.

TO REMAIN AMATEUR

Every effort is being made to keep the boy an amateur, Meads said, and he is being taught proper breathing by Mrs. Pauline Cruickshank, music teacher at the Marin School where he is a student. His many successes mean very little to the boy, the parents said, and Buddy thinks more of acquiring a new model airplane than of appearing before several hundred persons and having them applaud his ability.

In last week-end's series of appearances, the audiences were told by Howell that the musical group had been started by the Albany Recreation Department as a recreational activity on its varied program.

The orchestra is comprised of Jim Gerlach, trumpet; Realdo Brusasco, accordion; Gerard Sharkey, drums; Dante Mazzoni, accordion; Melvin Maderos, saxophone; and Ray Ontis, washboard. Its instructor and director is Ed Howell.

MOTHERS PLAN WHIST

An invitation to the public to attend a pillowcase whist on Wednesday, December 9, was issued this week by the Mothers' Club of the Albany Y. M. C. A. The whist will be held at the building at 1:30 p. m., it was announced.

Score cards are on sale at 25 cents.

SINGING WINS HIGH PRAISE

The unusually fine singing of Buddy Meads, above, who appears with the Albany Playground Orchestra, has brought him high praise from audiences on numerous occasions. His latest triumphs were made last week-end in a series of theatrical appearances with the orchestra. The boy is a student at the Marin School and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Meads of 830 Ramona Avenue.

Fifth Victory Is Sought by Albany Team

With their winning streak totaling four straight victories, the Murphy Chevrolet basketball five of Albany traveled to Martinez Monday night to exchange shots with the fast J. C. Penny Missourians at the Alhambra High School Gymnasium at 8 p. m.

The Contra Costa club, boasting a sharpshooting and speedy team, will be the toughest squad to face the Chevrolet crew so far this season. The Penny team is composed of players who preformed in Missouri where they captured three straight tournaments.

The local five have displayed a "never-say-die" spirit in their last three games that has won them a host of friends.

Each of the last three games the Albanyites were trailing at half time but refused to be more than momentarily halted, and playing a fast-breaking attack, coupled with accurate shots, drove on to victory.

Monday evening in Martinez the local team snapped out of their sluggish first-half playing and piled up a commanding lead against the Martinez Giffords, one of the strongest teams in the Contra Costa county seat, to win 27-21.

Tuesday evening the "Irishers," minus two of their regular players, Fred Winkensch and Andy Anderson, sneaked under the wire to nose out the Hazel-Atlas Glass quintet 36-34.

Although being heavily out-gained in the first half, with the score finding the Glassmen in front, 20-8, the local clan, featuring the deadly shooting of "Edge" Farnsworth and "Chizlie" Frizvold, came from behind to creep within one point of the Oaklanders. With 45 seconds to go, Farnsworth dribbled under the basket to score. On the same play he was fouled. The foul shot was good and the Murphy team stopped the foe for the remaining seconds.

Rotary Club in Special Meeting

The Rotary Club Annual Assembly, which is to be held once a year in order that the members may discuss, criticize and offer suggestions of the business management, ordinarily handled by the directors, was held last Monday evening at the Memorial Building with Don Bruce, president, presiding.

Another Program Committee was appointed to arrange the entertainments for the month of December. It is comprised of Gerald Murphy of the Chevrolet Company, Clarence O'Brien of the Economy Hardware Company, Fred Lennox, photographer and Ted Williams, jeweler. This quartet promised to provide plenty of good times.

Following the agenda a dinner was served by the Ladies Aid of the M. E. Community Church.

Youth's Skill Brings Award

All of his labor in the construction of a model airplane was amply repaid, asserts Bob Finn, 17, as he realized Sunday night that he had won second place in the senior group model competition in the National Guard Army in San Francisco.

The contest was conducted under the auspices of the San Francisco Wing of the Junior Birdmen of America and drew several hundred entries in the various classes, it is said. The Albany boy was awarded for his excellent work in building a solid model of a Lockheed twin-motored monoplane, complete in detail even to the rivets on the wings.

Young Finn is a student at the Albany high school and is the son of C. A. Finn, printing instructor at that school. He is a member of Albany's Ace of Clubs Squadron of the organization which sponsored the contest. The local group is sponsored by the Albany Rotary Club and is directed by Duncan McGregor.

The winning model was made to scale, measuring one foot in length and had a wing spread of 17 inches. Containing windows, antenna, running and landing lights and many other diminutive replicas of standard equipment on the actual planes, the model was highly praised by the judges. The award was made by Burdette A. Palmer, representing the field directors of the organization and comprised a beautiful engraved and colored parchment certificate and the sum of $15.

HOLD MEETING TO DISCUSS CHRISTMAS CARNIVAL PLANS

A joint meeting of the Men's and Women's Breakfast Clubs will be held Sunday morning at De Biasi's Restaurant to discuss the final details of the latter organization's Christmas Carnival and charity affair to be held next Saturday evening at the Veterans Memorial Building.

The meeting will be presided over jointly by Mrs. Beatrice Raymond and Ed Ryken, heads of the two groups, and will be the last opportunity for such a gathering before the worthy event which will provide necessities and Christmas goods for a good many of Albany's needy.

When the undertaking was first considered by the Women's Breakfast Club, the main thought was that Albany people should take care of their needy neighbors. The idea of charity was not to be considered. Instead, the helpful movement was to give neighborly assistance where it was needed.

Since its inception, the idea has been heartily endorsed by all of the other organizations and clubs in the city, with the result that these various groups are cooperating to put the Turkey Whist Is Planned by V.F.W.

All is in readiness for another big turkey whist on December 17, it was declared this week by Leland Bergesen Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars. The whist will be held at the Veterans Memorial Building.

In addition to the many turkey awards, other surprises are in store for the players, according to the committee. Tickets for the affair are now being sold by members of the Post.

Massed Flags Add Color to Grid Contest

Prefacing the East-West football game next Sunday and during the half-time period a patriotic spectacle will be staged, the committee in charge have announced. Appearing in the colorful and inspiring demonstration will be uniformed members of the Scouts, the De Molays and the American Legion, sponsors of the contest.

Also on the field at these times will be the massed colors of the American Legion Posts and Auxiliaries of this district. Albany Post's colors will be carried by Edward Knox and Ralph Young, while the Auxiliary's flags will be borne by Earl and LeRoy Holland, members of the Sons of the Legion.

Eight bands and six drum and bugle corps have already promised to participate in the program, including the band of Alameda Post No. 9, the Col. Young Post drum and bugle corps, the Livermore Post Cowboy band and the drum and bugle corps from Berkeley Post No. 7.

STAR GRID PLAYERS

The players on the teams have been selected from the high schools of San Francisco and the East Bay. Harry Lutz and Arleigh Williams, former U. C. stars and players, are coaching the East Bay team, while that representing the trans-bay city is coached by the Hurley Brothers.

Admission to the game is 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for students with student body cards. Reserved seats on the 50-yard line are selling for 75 cents and may be secured from A. L. Ford and George Foley. Proceeds from the game will be apportioned among the three sponsoring groups to be used for the Scouts' Foundation and for the veterans' hospital in Livermore and San Francisco.

Harry Hamann, chairman of the Albany Post delegation to the game is planning a caravan to attend the game, leaving the Albany Memorial Building here at 11:30 a. m. All persons who intend to see the big game and spectacle are asked to notify him and be present at the game.

For a full afternoon of entertainment and thrills, this East-West game will surpass the contests of previous years, it is promised by those in charge, who expect an attendance double that of former years.

Mrs. T. Theodoras is now reported as recovering from a serious operation at an Oakland hospital.

Milk Fund Is Aided by City Council Move

Action Is Promised Soon on Circular Ordinance

Insuring a supply of fresh milk for undernourished children of school age in the city, the Albany City Council voted unanimously Monday night to allow the expenditure of $750. The move represented a renewal of the agreement now in effect providing aid to those children needing it and will insure the continuance of this movement during the balance of the fiscal year.

Action on the city's proposed circular ordinance, regulating the distribution of handbills and circulars, will probably be taken up at the meeting next Monday evening, it was announced by Mayor O. C. Yenne, when questioned on the subject. The mayor explained that legislation was being drafted by City Attorney C. N. Lavers and would be presented by him at that time.

TO ASK PERMITS, SIGNS

The proposed ordinance, as far as could be learned, will require a permit for the distribution of such matter and will also entail the posting of signs or notices by householders who object to the advertising notices, etc., being left at their homes.

A contract with R. G. Cuthbertson, 1559 Sonoma Avenue, representing the Remington-Rand Company of Oakland, was entered into, whereby the city's typewriters and adding machines will be serviced for a period of one year at a cost of $70.

Complying with a request from City Attorney Lavers that he be supplied with a first-class typewriter to be used in the projected ordinance revamping and filing soon to be undertaken, the council moved to allow him to rent a machine for the duration of his task.

ACTION POSTPONED

At the suggestion of Councilmen Mowday and Hanahan, action on the application for a permit to establish an auto wrecking lot at the northern boundary of the city on San Pablo Avenue, was put over until word is received from the City Planning and Zoning Commission.

To allow master plumbers who possess certificates from other municipalities to operate here without the necessity for an examination as has previously been necessary, was the reason given for an amendment to the city laws. The change was voted at the advice of City Engineer Harry Dygert.

A communication listing his reasons for seeking a reduced toll rate on the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge was received by the council from George M. Hatfield, lieutenant-governor. The letter was placed on file.

Contest Now In Fifth Week

The fifth trials of the Maccabee-Albany Theatre amateur contest now in progress will be held this evening at the local theater, says J. P. Williams, master of ceremonies.

Scheduled to appear tonight are David Leister and Richard Burks in a violin duet; Beverly Jeanne Wuelzer in a recitation and dance, accompanied by Blanche Regalia; and Joan Sutton in song and tap numbers. This is a complete list of the entries, said Williams yesterday, unless other entrants sign up in the meantime.

Next week's audiences will see the finals in the contest started by the sponsors to discover talented performers in the city of Albany. On Friday, December 11, the Albany Tent of the Maccabees will hold a theater party, for which the tickets are now being sold by the members.

Last Friday night's contest was won by Jewel J. Wilcox and Helen Haines.

The pitcher also got two hits, one a double. Morgan scored two hits and Manager Borba did some heavy hitting, including a triple and bringing in four runs. Murphy's scored a total of five runs in the fifth inning. Fine work in the outfield by J. Dorezo also contributed to the victory.

Honor Court Of Scouts Is Recent Event

The November activities of Troop No. 42, Boy Scouts, were centered around its Court of Honor, held at Marin School on Friday, November 13.

The Court was opened with the tenderfoot investiture by which Clement Haggerty was officially taken into the troop. Other ceremonies advanced Robert Hansen to Second Class and Brice Brooks, Albert Teakle, John Winfrey and Walter McCausland to First Class.

Jimmy Byers was taken into the troop on a transfer. George Rutan, Jr. was awarded merit badges for leathercraft and camping, while Glen Vocheater received an award for athletics. The latter is the first of the original charter members of the troop to be awarded a merit badge.

Considering the fact that the charter was applied for in March of this year, and that since this time all the original members have become First Class Scouts, a good deal of praise is due the boys and Scoutmaster George Larson.

For securing the most advancement points during the past quarter, Orman Stone was presented a merit badge sash. To Eagle Patrol was awarded a canteen for the most points acquired by a patrol.

Considerable amusement was supplied prior to the court opening when a pie-eating contest was held between Glen Vocheater of the Eagle Patrol and Jack Hanson of the Stag Patrol.

Refreshments were served in the school cafeteria by Mrs. W. McCausland, Mrs. O. Stone and Mrs. C. Hellwig.

Yomarco Club Reorganizes

Because the "Schooner Club" which was to have superseded the "Yomarco Club" has been discontinued, members of the latter group voted to reorganize under the old name and continue to hold their regular meetings on the third Friday of each month, with the exception of the December meeting which will be omitted on account of the holidays.

This social club which was formed approximately seven years ago by the young married couples of the Albany Community Church, had decided to disband in favor of the younger set. When these failed to carry on, however, the older group elected a new set of officers and are taking up their old duties with a zest.

Officers for the coming year are Ernest Brown, president; J. B. Deisenroth, vice-president; Mrs. Hazel Wallace, secretary, and Mrs. Emily Brown, treasurer.
